NEWS FROM THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF BIORHEOLOGY

MEMBERSHIP IN THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY
OF BIORHEOLOGY

On behalf of the Council of The International Society of Biorheology, I cordially invite those of you who are not already members to join The International Society of Biorheology. The Society has been founded with the aim of stimulating interdisciplinary cooperation among biochemists, biologists, biophysicists, engineers, physicians and surgeons and all research investigators interested in the study, interpretation and application of biorheological phenomena. The annual individual membership subscription is $25. After an individual has been informed that his application for membership has been accepted, the fees are to be paid to the Treasurer:

Dr. Joseph F. Gross
Department of Chemical Engineering
The University of Arizona
Tucson, AZ 85721
Phone: (602) 621-6039

Those persons who have difficulties in converting their national currency into US dollars should contact the Treasurer in order to make special arrangements. Membership application forms may be obtained from the Secretary General:

Dr. Herbert J. Meiselman
USC School of Medicine
2025 Zonal Avenue
Los Angeles, CA 90033
USA
Phone: (213) 224-7244

At present, the Society organizes an International Conference approximately every three years. The Fifth International Congress of Biorheology will take place in Baden Baden, West Germany from August 19-24, 1983, under the Presidency of Professor Dr. Siegfried Witte. For information concerning the congress contact:

Professor Dr. K. Messmer
Abteilung für Experimentelle Chirurgie
Chirurgisches Zentrum
Ruprecht-Karls-Universität Heidelberg
Im Neuenheimer Feld 347
6900 Heidelberg 1
West Germany
Phone: 06221-56-2100

Immediately prior to the congress, a satellite meeting of the 5th International Congress of Biorheology will be held in Nancy, France on August 17 and 18th, 1983, entitled International Symposium of New Methods in Biorheology under the Presidency of Dr. J. F. Stoltz. Further information may be obtained from:

Palais des Congrès
Symposium New Methods in Biorheology
Rue du Grand-Rabbin-Haguenauer
5400 Nancy
France
Phone: (8) 336-65-10

Another related meeting is the Third European Conference on Clinical Haemorheology which will also be held in Baden Baden, West Germany, August 24-27, 1983, under the Chairmanship of Professor Dr. H. Schmid-Schönbein:

Abteilung Physiologie
R.W.T.H.
D5100 Aachen
Melataner Strasse 211
West Germany

The Society also sponsors periodically symposia at the national and international level including symposia held in conjunction with the International Meetings of the International Union for Pure and Applied Biophysics (IUPAB) as the Society is an Affiliated Commission of IUPAB.

As members of the International Society of Biorheology, you will also be entitled to special reduced subscription rates of $20 per year for either of our official journals "BIORHEOLOGY" or "CLINICAL HEMORHEOLOGY" or $40 per year for subscription to both journals.

Please join us.
