

Forthcoming in Information Services & Use

Volume 4, Number 5 (October 1984)

This issue will include:

Variables in data-base production costs, by M.M.K. Hlava

Off-site indexing: a cottage industry, by C.H. Fay

Multiple use and other mysteries: creating the data base as a byproduct of composition, by B.M. Foreman

Economic considerations for NTIS bibliographic data-base products, by M.E. Wilson

Applications of technology to CAS data-base production, by D.W. Weisgerber

Converting the H.W. Wilson Company indexes to an automated system: a functional analysis, by J.J. Regazzi

Selected Abstracts: Ninth International CODATA Conference, 1984