CONTENTS

A.L. Copley and S. Witte	1	Editorial
		Opening Address
A.L. Copley	3	Fluid Mechanics and Biorheology
		Papers
G. Galea and R.J.L. Davidson	21	Haemorheological changes associated with the menstrual cycle and oral contraceptive therapy
K. De Ceulaer, G.R. Serjeant, R.L. Nagel, H.H. Billett, J. Christakis, D. Loukopoulos, A.J. Bellingham, G.S. Lucas and J. Stuart	35	Intravenous oxpentifylline and the painful crisis of sickle cell disease
D. Laustriat, D. Koutsouris, I. Duwig, S. Goll, G. Mavromatis, O. Kane and M.L. North	43	Nine days post-thawing red cell conservation in a synthetic medium: Study of erythrocyte deformability
J.D. Robertson, R.J. Maughan, K.A. Walker and R.J.L. Davidson	51	Plasma viscosity and the haemodilution following distance running
M. Hildesheimer, C. Muchnik and M. Rubinstein	59	Experimental whole blood hyperviscosity and cochlear action potentials
H.B. Aronson, D. Eimerl and B. Beilin	65	Blood rheology compared in intravenous and halothane anaesthesia
E. Friederichs, T. Rädtsch, H. Winkler and W. Tillmann	81	Improved solubility of deoxygenated hemoglobin in sickle cell disease: Correlations between erythrocytic Ca ²⁺ -ion concentration and hemoglobin solubility
V. Annapurna, R.R. Puniyani and R.V. Gupte	95	Red cell deformability and erythrocyte lipids in hypertension
C. Janot, S. Muller, F. Streiff, M. Donner and J.F. Stoltz	103	Application of Laser-Doppler electrophoresis to the measurement of blood cell surface charge
		Brief Communication
B.D. Christopher, G.B. Nash, S.A. Steel, J.M.F. Pearce and J.A. Dormandy	113	Filterability of neonatal red cells after normal and complicated pregnancies
	119	Abstracts: International Symposium on Biofluid Mechanics and Biorheology, Munich, FRG, 25-28 June 1989
	137	Abstracts: 12. Annual Meeting, Japanese Society of Biorheology, Tsukuba Science City, Japan, 5-7 July 1989
	145	Abstracts: Symposium on Biorheology, Montreal, Canada, 25 October 1989
	149	Announcements
	153	A Note
	155	Contents of BIORHEOLOGY, Volume 26, Number 5
