This issue contains the Opening Address 'Fluid Mechanics and Biorheology', given by one of us (A.L.C.) at the 2. International Symposium of Biofluid Mechanics and Biorheology, Munich, F.R. Germany, 25-28 June 1989 as the Satellite Symposium of the International Congress of Biorheology, Nancy, France, 18-23 June 1989. This issue contains also 31 Abstracts of this Symposium dealing with clinical hemorheology. They were submitted for publication by Dieter Liepsch, Symposium Chairman and Editor. Abstracts of communications other than clinical hemorheology were published in BIORHEOLOGY 27, Nr. 1, 1990.

We thank Jean-François Stoltz (France) and G. A. Marcel (France) for their activities as Editors of CLINICAL HEMORHEOLOGY. We are particularly grateful to J.-F. Stoltz, who since the beginning of our Journal contributed greatly to its success.

We welcome Mireille Donner, G. Potron and Jean-Luc Wautier, our new Editors from France.

Included in this issue are 12 Abstracts of communications given at the 12. Annual Meeting of the Japanese Society of Biorheology, held from 5-7 July 1989 at the University of Tsukuba, Tsukuba Science City, Japan. Abstracts of communications, other than clinical hemorheology, given at this Conference, were published in BIORHEOLOGY 26, 1051-1081, 1989.

This issue contains likewise the Abstracts of the Biorheology Symposium held on 25 October 1989, in Montreal, Canada, as part of the 61. Annual Meeting of the Society of Rheology. The Symposium was organized as a tribute to the late Stanley Mason by Harry Goldsmith and Salvatore P. Sutura, President of the North American Society of Biorheology.

Best wishes for 1990 to our Readers and Editors!
