CALL FOR PAPERS

Volume 24 of the Annual Review of Information Science and Technology (ARIST) to be published in October 1989 will contain state-of-the-art reviews on the topics listed below. If you (the reader of this notice) have written papers on any of these topics, the author of the chapter on that topic would like to receive copies of those papers for possible reference within the chapter he/she is writing. Please send papers directly to the appropriate author no later than December, 1988 as ARIST chapters are to be completed in February and the author needs time to read your papers to determine if he/she would like to cite them. The topics and authors are as follows:
