

CALENDAR OF MAJOR COMPUTER-CHESS EVENTS

For the benefit of our readers who may wish to enter programs in future computer-chess competitions or to attend as spectators, we shall publish in every issue of the ICCA Journal a list of future events. Anyone who is planning to organize an event which should be listed in this calendar is invited to send full details to the Editor.

1989

World Computer-Chess Championship, May 28th to June 1st, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.
Details: Professor Tony Marsland or Dr. Jonathan Schaeffer, Department of Computer Science, University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

1st Computer Olympiad and 1st London Conference on Computer Games, August 9th to 15th, Park Lane Hotel, London, England.
Details: David Levy, 11 Loudoun Road, London NW8 0LP, England.

World Microcomputer-Chess Championship. Beograd, Yugoslavia, September (exact date to be announced).

20th ACM North American Computer-Chess Championship. November 12th to 15th, Reno, Nevada (not San Francisco as previously announced).
Details: Professor Monty Newborn, School of Computer Science, Burnside Hall, McGill University, Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

1990

Human chess Master and Grand Master vs. Computer tournament (all-play-all), dates to be announced. London, England. This event will be held alongside the 6th Advances in Computer Chess Conference.

World Microcomputer-Chess Championship. France has an option to hold this event during June or July. Further details to be announced.

21st ACM North American Computer-Chess Championship. November. Further details to be announced.

1991

World Microcomputer-Chess Championship, Vancouver, Canada. June or July. Further details to be announced.

1992

World Computer-Chess Championship, Spain. Dates and exact venue to be announced.

World Microcomputer-Chess Championship, Spain. Dates and exact venue to be announced. (This event will be held at a different time of year to the "absolute" World Computer-Chess Championship).