

Author/Title Index to volume 9 (1989)

(Numbers appearing within parentheses before the page numbers indicate the issue in which an item was published.)

- Arnold, S.E., End-users: Dollars but doubts (6) 327–340
- Bell, K.C., LANDSEARCH: better access to Commonwealth land and geographic information (1/2) 45–56
- Bjerregaard, E.T.D., Experiences from an IM project in three Danish industrial companies (4) 225–233
- Buchan, R.L., Intertwining thesauri and dictionaries (3) 171–175
- Cawkell, A.E., Editorial: Hypermedia (1/2) 115–116
- Cawkell, A.E., Editorial: The risks of ignoring information (6) 325
- Cederberg, B., Changes in information strategies in a company—Experiences from ASEA (4) 241–245
- Chadwyck-Healey, Sir Charles, MundoCart and Supermap; cartographic and statistical data-bases on CD-ROM (3) 139–147
- Clark, J.E., NTIS: a key partner in unlocking the world's technology (5) 289–294
- Clough, R., ASSASSIN: the ongoing development of a text storage and retrieval system (3) 149–160
- Edem, U.S., Serials acquisition and management in Nigerian Academic Libraries: implications for quality library services (3) 161–170
- Elias, A.W., Copyright, licensing agreements and gateways (6) 347–361
- Elias, A.W., Editorial: MEETINGS & meetings... (5) 257
- Farkas-Conn, I.S., Information as a corporate resource (4) 205–215
- Hämäläinen, P., Enhanced benefits from business information services: JOTI—An executive information system (4) 191–196
- Hamrefors, S., Business intelligence systems as a route to improving competitive positions (4) 217–224
- Harrap, C.: see M.G. McPherson (1/2) 101–106
- Hodge, G.M. and A.M. Stefany, B-I-T-S: production of a customized floppy disk product (5) 259–269
- Jackson, K.M.: see W.R. Kinyon (5) 279–288
- Jarvis, J.R., Developing an expert system using a PC-based shell (1/2) 67–77
- Kalseth, K., Editorial (4) 189
- Karivalo, M., Training for information management in a company (6) 341–346

- Kinyon, W.R. and K.M. Jackson, Look before you leap: avoiding marketing problems through producer/user collaboration (5) 279–288
- Krebs, R., The role of information and documentation in the automobile industry (4) 235–240
- Krull, J.S., The role of the service bureau in multimedia diversification (5) 271–277
- Lee, E.S.: see J.N. MacGregor (3) 127–137
- Leonard, P.G. and P.A. Spender, Contractual & intellectual property protection of databases (1/2) 33– 43
- Lim, E.H.-T., Networking activities in Southeast Asia (1/2) 15– 32
- Lowry, G.R., Editorial: The Australasian information services industry in 1989 (1/2) 1– 2
- Lyons, K. and P. Sharma, Opportunities and obstacles in land information systems (1/2) 57– 65
- MacGregor, J.N., E.S. Lee and T. Whalen, The feature matching approach to the computer retrieval of graphics: an enhancement (3) 127–137
- McPherson, M.G., C. Harrap and J.E. O'Reilly, Enhancing search results by editing, analysis and packaging (1/2) 101–106
- O'Reilly, J.E.: see M.G. McPherson (1/2) 101–106
- Pearsall, J., STATUS/IQ: a semi-intelligent information retrieval system (5) 295–309
- Quinn, S., Australian and New Zealand databases in 1988 (1/2) 3– 14
- Sharma, P.: see K. Lyons (1/2) 57– 65
- Sharp, G.E., Business information services and implications for Australian Corporate Libraries (3) 117–126
- Smith, I.W., Towards an evaluation of CD-ROM products in the library user services environment (1/2) 85– 91
- Spender, P.A.: see P.G. Leonard (1/2) 33– 43
- Stefany, A.M.: see G.M. Hodge (5) 259–269
- Thompson, S.S., From documentation service centre to documentation competence centre; Experiences from Norsk Hydro (4) 247–253
- Unruh, B., Copyright issues: the primary/secondary journal interface (6) 363–371
- Ventress, A., Networks and CD-ROMs (1/2) 93–100
- Warren, D., Supporting CD-ROM in an academic library (1/2) 79– 84
- Wormell, I., Strategic information management to improve competitiveness (4) 197–204