Profile

Collaborative Group on Drug Use in Pregnancy (CGDUP)

Current findings from the WHO-sponsored Collaborative Group on Drug Use in Pregnancy were published in this Journal in 1991 (Vol. 2, No. 6). The Group is conceived as a permanent global network of investigators interested in determining the pattern of drug use, testing or validating therapeutic or prophylactic interventions, and examining other drug safety issues in mother and child. To promote and support further development of the network, a list of reference investigators provided below.
